Last Updated Monday, 21 January 2008

We currently have performed upgrades to our website, so we have been down for a few hours this weekend - we apologize for the inconvenience. But as a result, we now have enhanced our Blog , so users can now post comments, seperately view each blog post (or link to them if desired on a personal website or blog), and also see post emoticons with each post! Check out our Blog today for our latest and past entries!
